

Webdirexion Huddle Collaboration System: When you work with Webdirexion, we provide a central way to track and communicate work in progress via our Webdirexion Huddle system. Now you know who's doing what and what tasks are underway at your site. Here's how huddle looks when you login and open the message list box:

Above: We gather and manage clear, contextual comments directly on top of your live website during Webdirexion projects. Note that "Pages" link at top right reveals all comments on all pages for your website project.

- Log in with your name, email and password – first time – so the system recognizes you.
- Click the plus sign and then click on the precise location to key your comment on a page.
- Click the top chat icon (right) to see all comments, pages, and to jump right to a page comment location (click the comment itself).
